this is me

understanding autism | one story at a time.

- A community-driven initiative focused on moving from awareness to understanding
- Built by parents navigating real-life autism experiences
- Creating impact through stories, education, and community connection

Our Foundations

Mission • Vision • Values

storytelling

Stories are powerful teachers. By sharing lived experiences, we create a collective library of knowledge that helps families, educators, and communities better understand autism and learn from one another.

advocacy

We work to elevate the voices and experiences of autistic individuals and their families to influence policies, practices, and systems of support.

education

We provide practical tools, shared experiences, and learning opportunities that help educators, families, and communities better understand autism.

inclusivity

We champion environments where every individual is welcomed, respected, and valued for who they are.

compassion

We believe that understanding begins with empathy, and that stronger communities are built when people listen to and learn from one another.

empowerment

We equip individuals and families with the knowledge, resources, and community support needed to navigate their journeys with confidence.

Where We're Going

Our goal is to grow into a nonprofit focused on expanding understanding, resources, and support.

We're building a movement that bridges the gap between:

families • educators • workplaces • communities

- Storytelling — real voices, real experiences
- Education & Resources — practical tools for everyday understanding
- Community Engagement — connection that fosters inclusion
- Workplace Understanding & Partnerships — bringing awareness into real-world action be part of this!
